Employer of the Year finalists shortlist

STATE Swim, ETSA Utilities and Bank SA are finalists for Employer of the Year at the 2010 South Australian Training Awards.

The winner of the awards, which recognise businesses that use innovative approaches to vocational education and training, will receive $3000.

State Swim chief executive Julie Stevens says it is "thrilled" to be in the top three.

"Providing our team with the very best in training opportunities ties in with our focus on recruiting and promoting people on attitude and personality, rather than technical skills," she says.

The awards are the peak state accolades for vocational education and training.

Winners will be announced at a dinner at the Convention Centre on September 3.
