In the swim for fundraiser

FREESTYLING is obviously the preferred option for State Swim teams in the lead-up to the charities fundraiser Trailblazer Challenge later this year.

Chief executive Julie Stevens, general manager Sarah Adams and Unley operations manager Richard Waterhouse donned their Red Faces Village People costumes on Saturday to raise funds for the event in October.

Last year State Swim became involved with the Trailblazer endurance and fundraising event, raising $17,000.

The annual Trailblazer in the Adelaide Hills gives teams the chance to expand their limits.

"We think it's only fitting that we raise a significant sum of funds to allow for similar type transformation in the lives of the young people who need it the most," Ms Stevens said.
